ANNOUNCING MANDOLIN ORANGE WITH THE COLORADO SYMPHONY

North Carolina duo makes their orchestral debut conducted by Christopher Dragon on January 17, 2020

Aug. 26, 2019 – Denver, CO – The Colorado Symphony announces Mandolin Orange with the Colorado Symphony taking place January 17, 2020 at Boettcher Concert Hall.

In their symphony orchestra debut, Mandolin Orange joins the Colorado Symphony for an evening of music that will revive the soul. Mandolin Orange's music radiates a mysterious warmth —with songs feeling like whispered secrets, and for this one night only performance, showcase an entire orchestra beside them creating a new depth and masterful layering unheard before. The North Carolina duo, singer-songwriter Andrew Marlin and multi-instrumentalist Emily Frantz, have honed this lamp glow intimacy for years and are thrilled to bring this special evening to life.

Single tickets for this performance go on sale August 30, 2019. For concert descriptions and ticket information, please visit coloradosymphony.org/tickets or call the box office at 303.623.7876.

ABOUT THE COLORADO SYMPHONY

One of the leading orchestras in the United States, the Colorado Symphony Association is a not-for-profit 501 (c)(3) organization performing more than 150 concerts annually at Boettcher Concert Hall in downtown Denver and across Colorado. Led by Music Director Brett Mitchell, the Colorado Symphony is home to eighty full-time musicians, representing more than a dozen nations, and regularly welcomes the most celebrated artists from the world of symphonic music and beyond. In the last year, the Colorado Symphony served nearly 233,000 people attending live performances at concert and non-traditional venues throughout Colorado's Front Range. In addition, over 265,000 people listen to the Colorado Symphony through Colorado Public Radio's live broadcasts of classical content featuring concert recordings, in-studio performances of individual musicians and small ensembles, and live streaming of interviews and performances with artists. Recognized as an incubator of innovation, creativity, and excellence, the Colorado Symphony continually expands its reach through education, outreach, and programming. The Colorado Symphony partners with the state's leading musical artists, cultural organizations, corporations, foundations, sports teams, and individuals to expose diverse audiences to the transformative power of music.
