COLORADO SYMPHONY ANNOUNCES 2025 CHAMBER MUSIC SERIES

Bringing the music of Schubert and Yun to the Grand Lake Creative District and Northglenn's Parsons Theater.

Sep. 10, 2025 – Denver, CO – The Colorado Symphony has unveiled its 2025 Chamber Music Series, an inspiring series of small-ensemble performances designed to bring audiences closer to the music and the musicians. Featuring the timeless beauty of Schubert's Octet alongside the distinctiveness of composer Isang Yun's Octet, the series offers an unparalleled opportunity to experience classical music in an intimate, up-close setting.

The ensemble features Yumi Hwang-Williams (Concertmaster), Owen Lin (Violin), Phillip Stevens (Viola), Chloe Hong (Assistant Principal Cello), August Ramos (Bass), Nick Davies (Bass / Utility Clarinet), Patrick Hodge (Assistant Principal / Utility horn), and Morgan Davison (2nd / Assistant Principal Bassoon).

"These concerts give audiences the rare chance to hear our musicians in their purest form: unplugged, close-up, and completely in the moment," said Davies. "It's a chance to discover how eight musicians can create a world of sound and storytelling."

- October 11, 2025 – Grand Lake: Experience an unforgettable evening of chamber music in the heart of the Rockies as the Colorado Symphony comes to Grand Lake. Presented in collaboration with the Grand Lake Creative District and Rocky Mountain Repertory Theatre, and generously supported by Mountain Parks Electric Inc., this concert promises a night of world-class artistry set against the inspiring backdrop of Grand Lake.

- November 2, 2025 – Parsons Theatre, Northglenn: Experience the power and nuance of live music in the beautiful setting of the Parsons Theatre. This community-centered performance closes the series with a dynamic program in a vibrant neighborhood venue. An ensemble of Colorado Symphony musicians presents a performance that highlights the richness of the chamber music repertoire and the virtuosity of Colorado's finest musicians.
- February 15, 2026 – The Studio Loft at Ellie Caulkins Opera House: Concert information and on sale information to be announced later.

Tickets for the October 11 performance at Grand Lake and the November 2 performance at Parsons Theatre in Northglenn are available now at coloradosymphony.org and through participating venues. For more information on the Colorado Symphony, please visit coloradosymphony.org.

ABOUT THE COLORADO SYMPHONY

One of the leading orchestras in the United States, the Colorado Symphony Association is a not-for-profit 501 (c)(3) organization performing more than 150 concerts annually at Boettcher Concert Hall in downtown Denver and across Colorado. Led by Music Director Peter Oundjian, the Colorado Symphony is home to eighty full-time musicians, representing more than a dozen nations, and regularly welcomes the most celebrated artists from the world of symphonic music and beyond. The orchestra celebrated its Centennial during the 2023/24 concert season. In the last year, the Colorado Symphony served over 340,000 people attending live performances at concert and non-traditional venues throughout Colorado's Front Range. Recognized as an incubator of innovation, creativity, and excellence, the Colorado Symphony continually expands its reach through in-person and virtual education programs, outreach, and programming. The Colorado Symphony partners with the state's leading musical artists, cultural organizations, corporations, foundations, sports teams, and individuals to expose diverse audiences to the transformative power of music.
